

Course Title: Exploring Medicine through streaming media

Short Title: ExplMedStream

Instructor:

David Winchester, Associate Professor of Medicine

David.winchester@medicine.ufl.edu

(352) 273-9076

Office Hours: By appointment

Office Location: Malcom Randall VA Medical Center E-344-1

Time: Thursday, 3rd period (9:35-10:25)

Overview: In this 1 credit seminar course, students will be introduced to a variety of topics in contemporary medicine such as health care delivery reform, ethical challenges, the evolution of medical science, and major healthcare crises. The course materials will be drawn from streaming media including podcasts and TED/YouTube videos. Class time will be used to explore the topics in open discussion with the course director and selected guest faculty from the College of Medicine and other institutions.

Learning Objectives:

- Discuss how streaming media is being used to inform the public about important medical topics
- Analyze opinions and facts related to contemporary health care issues
- Create media content for a lay audience that explores a topic in contemporary medicine

Grades: The students will be expected to review the recommended course materials prior to each class session then actively participate in discussions. At the end of the semester, students will produce a sample of streaming media content that explores one of the course topics. Final grade will be based on in class participation (50%) and a final presentation (50%).

Expectations of students: Class discussion will begin at the start of the period. Tardiness may be considered non-participation in that day's class discussion. Students are welcome to use electronic devices during class, however use should be directed towards the material or topic being discussed.

Textbooks: No textbooks are required; students are expected to access and review the assigned online materials prior to each week's class.

Materials and Supplies fees: None

University of Florida Policies

Attendance and assignments: Requirements for class attendance and make-up exams, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>

Students with disabilities: Students requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

Grading policies: Available at <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/grades-grading-policies/>

Evaluations: Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing online evaluations at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results/>.

Academic honesty: UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/sccr/process/student-conduct-honorcode/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor in this class.
