Course Materials:

- Required Texts: The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks by Rebecca Skloot
- All information for this class will be available on Canvas.

Course Description:

HeLa cells are one of the oldest and most commonly used human cell line. Even though the utility of this cell line is vast and important, the history behind how the cells were isolated and used is a bioethical conundrum. Science, medicine, and technology have progressed significantly because of the use of HeLa cells and with this progress have come ethical questions. The intent of this course is to focus on the biological, medical, technological, and ethical issues surrounding HeLa cells.

Course Objectives:

1. To understand HeLa cells and their uses.
2. To understand the ethical issues surrounding HeLa cells.
3. To be able to make an informed analysis of bioethical issues.
4. To critically discuss bioethical issues and scientific literature pertaining to HeLa cells in a group setting.

Expectations:

Each week students will be expected to read the assigned chapters, prepare discussion notes, and participate in class discussions. Students will reflect on thought questions posed prior to their reading and will come to class with responses prepared to these questions. Students will discuss their ideas in breakout groups, followed by a class discussion of the chapters. Depending on class size, students may have rotating responsibilities to lead part of the discussion. Each class member should come to class ready to contribute every week and not merely to listen.

Each week, students should come up with one discussion question you would want to ask if they were leading a discussion on the assigned reading. As much as possible, questions should reference specific passages in the text. This question will be submitted via Canvas on Mondays by 11:59 pm each week.

Course Schedule:

Each week we will discuss the information presented in several chapters of the Skloot book. This schedule is subject to change.

Grading and Attendance Policies

Reading, Discussion, and Participation (60%)

HeLa Cells Case Study (15%)

Final Project (25%)

Student Assignments:

Reading, Discussion, and Participation

Each week, we will discuss chapters of the assigned book. Student participation is essential. Class participation will be measured during regular in-class activities and is based on attendance and contributions to class discussion. Before each class, students will submit via Canvas one written discussion question based on the weekly reading. For each class, one or two students will lead the discussion of the readings.

HeLa Cells Case Study

Students will write a short essay (~2 pages maximum, not including citations) about “Should HeLa cells be used in research? Why or why not?” Please give one specific example in your description. Each student will give a ~3-minute presentation (with one slide) in class on October 17th.

Bioethics Final Project

Students will work in groups on a project with a topic of their choosing related to the bioethical concerns faced by researchers currently using both HeLa cells and cells harvested from other donors to advance knowledge in the biomedical sciences. Additional details on the final project will be provided in Canvas. The final project includes a ~10-minute presentation in one of the two final classes. The goal is to consider the implications of what you have learned from the readings and class discussion.

Grading Scale:

93-100 (A), 90-92 (A-), 87-89 (B+), 83-86 (B), 80-82 (B-), 77-79 (C+), 73-76 (C), 70-72 (C-), 67-69 (D+), 60-66 (D), 60-62 (D-), Below 59 (E)

 A minimum grade of B is required to earn Academic points toward your Honors Completion Requirements. Once you have earned your final grade in this course, please upload the course information and final grade from your Unofficial Transcript into your Honors Canvas Cohort: Honors Completion module to earn Honors Completion credit. **

Attendance: Requirements for class attendance, assignments, and other work in this course are consistent with university policies that can be found at:

<https://catalog.ufl.edu/ugrad/current/regulations/info/attendance.aspx>. It is understood that valid absences may occur. If you have a valid documented excuse and notify the instructor by email in advance, you can make up missed class discussions through written means.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should first register with the Disability Resource Center (352-392-8565, <https://disability.ufl.edu/>) by providing appropriate documentation. Once registered, students will receive an accommodation letter which must be presented to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation: Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing the online evaluation at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two weeks of the semester, but you will be informed about specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available at any time at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results/>

Academic Conduct: UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Conduct Code specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions.
